RECOGNIZING YOUR CRITICAL BUSINESS NEEDS

Labor, guests and costs all represent critical business needs that must be addressed to sustain and grow your business.

LABOR READINESS With nearly half of the expenses related to labor, and a high turnover rate, an inability to attract, hire and retain an efficient workforce can seriously impact your facility's reputation, morale and profitability:

- Managing labor efforts in the laundry room
- Training staff on proper procedures
- Allocating and optimizing labor resources across the property

90%
of travelers avoid hotels labeled as "dirty"

GUEST SATISFACTION Negative guest experiences have a direct correlation with vacancy rates.

Word-of-mouth opinions, coupled with far-reaching online reviews, truly put your destiny in the hands of your guests:

- From the lobby to the dining room, every aspect of your operation must be clean
- 33% of customers won't book a room without reading reviews first
- 94% of people would avoid a business in the future if they encountered a dirty restroom

COST CONTAINMENT To stay competitive you must meticulously manage the bottom line. Having the right people, processes, and products in place minimizes costs and maximizes your margins across the operation:

- Managing costs per room
- Lack of training contributing to custodial inefficiencies
- Waste associated with poorly proportioned cleaning products
